Dear Parent/Guardian

Internet Safety Bag

Keeping up to date with what your children are doing online can seem daunting. Technology is constantly advancing, and sometimes parents feel their children know more about the internet than they do.

E-safety is taken very seriously at Linslade Lower School, with children taking part in online safety lessons regularly as part of our Personal, Social and Health Education (PSHE) and Computing curriculum.

Whatever their age, there are many organisations and agencies offering practical and easy advice on the steps you can take as a parent to keep them as safe as possible. Here are some useful websites you may want to visit.

We also have our Internet Safety Bags. There is one bag for each year group. A child will take the bag and the book home for two nights, share the book at home and chat about the story, and return it to school. We will then pass it to the next child on the list. In this way, all children will be able to share the book at home. It is important that the bag comes back into school after two nights to ensure everyone gets a turn.

We hope this will continue to develop awareness of how to stay safe on the internet. If you feel that you would like any further advice, please don't hesitate to pop in and speak to a member of staff.

Yours sincerely

Hazel Farlam
